COWBOY PADGETT WILL MEET LONG HERE ON JUNE 9

Legion Club Planning Bang-up Bill for Boxing Card

With the passing of the Jack Britton-Cowboy Padgett championship battle into very thin atmosphere, the Joc Carson Athletic club sannounced yesterday that Ray Alvis' cowboy would meet Ray Long, the Oklahoma City lad who held the welter champ to a draw over 12 rounds the other night in a 12-round hout to a decision, at McNulty park, Friday night, June 6.
Britton was slated orginally to meet Padgett at the convention hall here on June 6, but the champion flew the ceop and jumped from the capital city to New York, without so much as giving Tulsa the high sign, in order to give his right mitt—the one that was laid up for repairs when it landed on Lon's jaw Friday night—a rest before the Leonard ordeal. Then the legion went after Long to sit in one corner for the principal bout of the evening, but the date was set over three days and the show transferred to the ball park.

Although the promoters cannot herald the affair as a championship match, still the boxing fans will probably see a better fight than would have been the Britton Padgett set-to. Padgett and Long have matched hisws before, but the affair was pronounced a draw, after an even dozen rounds of slashing and slugging.

The fact that the plucky Okiahoma City scrapper fought the welter king to a draw doesn't feaze the rowboy one whit. In fact, Alvis says it doesn't. Padgett, although in shape today to go 12 rounds, will start an intensive training program to put edge on his stock in thate. Long has a fight or two in the way at present and will be in condition when he drops into Tulsa carly next week for his final workarly next week for his final work-cuits.

Quite a bit of interest in the Benny Leonard-Jack Britton bout has been aroused throughout the state since the invasion of the welter crown-bearer. Final arrangements have been completed since the Britton tent has been pitched in Gotham. The 12-round contest will be staged in the Jersey City fight bowl operated by Tex Rickard, on Friday, June 23. The conditions call for the two boxers to weigh in at not over 147 pounds at 2 p. m., in the neighborhood of eight hours before a blow is struck. The match was originally scheduled for the inst of June, but Britton set things over until the latter part of the month.

In another weird, one-sided af-fair, the Texas team—1921 Oil league champions—ran away from the Junior Chamber of Commerce representatives and won, 14 to 1. If possible the Chamber of Com-merce team looked worse yesterday than in their former games, and added to the festivities with an even dozen boots.
